Bittersweet originals from Denmark's leading jazz singer songwriter

Sinne Eeg's new album 'Don't Be So Blue' features brand new originals written by the acclaimed Danish jazz singer-songwriter and performed by her live band, consisting of Denmark's premiere jazz musicians. Following Sinne's successful release 'Remembering You' this album is very anticipated by her fans.

'Don't Be So Blue', her fifth solo album and third release on Red Dot Music, features a collection of new songs strongly reflecting the intimate and bittersweet frame of mind while writing the songs on her recent tour.

- I wrote 'Don't Be So Blue' as a live concert. Normally you write; record in the studio; and then go on tour. However, these songs and the bittersweet feeling came to me on a tour. We tested the songs every night in front of a live audience, and I think we captured this live feeling on the entire album, says Sinne.

Taking her song writing to centre stage, Sinne demonstrates once again that not only is she an excellent vocalist she is also one of today's most influential jazz singer songwriters in Scandinavia. She creates and performs sensitive melodies and lyrics that touch everyone deeply.

Sinne's distinctive vocals have earned her a loyal and ever growing fan base around the world as well as in her native country. And the great artistry on 'Don't Be So Blue' is sure to rocket her even further into her position as Scandinavia's leading jazz star.

In addition to her seven new compositions, Sinne elegantly offers interpretations of classic songs such as 'My Favourite Things' and the title song from 'A Sound of Music'.

'Don't be So Blue' is also a recording that clearly exposes the intimate frame of mind between the singer and her live band - a mood that is usually only evident in live concerts. With ease and liberty Sinne is in complete sync with some of Denmark's premier musicians: Jacob Christoffersen on piano; Morten Ramsbøl on bass; and Morten Lund on drums.

'Don't Be So Blue' is produced by Sinne and will be released on Red Dot Music on CD and download in Denmark 22 March, 2010. Sinne and her live band are on tour in Europe in March and April.
